HUNGARIAN PM ORBÁN BLAMES SOROS FOR MUSLIM INVASION

By WILLIAM MAYER

October 30, 2015 - San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – According to the widely quoted, left-wing German news journal Der Spiegel, Hungary’s Prime Minister, Viktor Orbán is charging George Soros, the shadowy American Marxist billionaire, with aiding and abetting the massive Islamic invasion of Europe, which Western media is attempting to minimize, dealing with it as simply a “refugee and/or humanitarian crisis.”

As reported today in Der Spiegel:

Soros is the definition of ambition and has shown great interest [and notable success] in the art of cultural manipulation/engineering [ala Gramsci]. Towards that end his Open Society Institute and Open Society Foundations [OSI/OSF] have created an often impenetrable, opaque array of networks, working off the same master plan. Through his array of NGOs, he is applying heavy social and legal pressure around the world to force transformational change of the type that Barack Obama has made infamous in the United States.

The legal aspect of Soros’ method is especially problematic because his intent is to strangle the West with its own entrails, using the rights and freedoms which accrue to non-servile societies to silence dissent under the rubric of alleged bigotry, especially Islamophobia. This is taking a page straight from the Muslim Brotherhood’s concept of cultural jihad, which makes it very difficult for a liberal society to develop defensive measures that will not be ruled illegal when they run afoul of a skewed notion of “civil liberties.”
Early in his career as an activist, Soros turned his interests towards Eastern Europe. Upon the fall of the Soviet Union, “Soros set up his first non-U.S. foundation in Hungary in 1984…As communism collapsed, Soros moved quickly to seize the revolutionary moment…” [source, About us, Open Society Foundations]

Meet the new boss, same as the old boss…

Regarding Hungary, it’s difficult to reject PM Orbán’s critique of Soros’ activities because his hand is heavy indeed. Perhaps the billionaire feels that he has a right to propagandize his former fellow countrymen, having been born in Budapest as Schwartz György in 1930. With Hungary now serving as a point of entry for many of the so-called refugees, his media operation there is pulling every societal string which might possibly be used to shift public perception away from the truth, that Europe is under Islamic attack which threatens to simply overwhelm the traditional native culture – an undeclared colonial war of occupation.

For example there is the Hungarian Helsinki Committee [and its affiliates in Poland and Romania] which together serve as agit-prop portals advancing the cultural Marxism which serves as the essential kernel of Soros worldwide image machine.

The memes are all familiar:

“…The Hungarian Helsinki Committee (HHC) is a human rights NGO founded in 1989…The HHC promotes legal education and training in fields relevant to its activities, both in Hungary and abroad. The HHC’s main areas of activities are centered on monitoring the human rights performance of law enforcement agencies and the judicial system, as well as protecting the rights of asylum seekers and foreigners in need of international protection…” [source, 2014 Annual Report, HHC]

The ridiculous nature of the claims made by HHC are immediately apparent, given the already widely understood reality of what is taking place in Europe. The below cited example is typical of the thinking represented by these groups. Oddly, we weren’t able to access the text from the OSF/OSI website since the link was broken at the time of this writing, requiring us to data-mine it from the Internet Archive. Note the similarity between these arguments those used in the United States to support unlimited illegal immigration.

“There is no migration crisis in Hungary; Migration fills in the gaps left by native-born Hungarians; These people are refugees in the purest legal sense; The inflammatory way that officials and the national media in Hungary describe the current influx of refugees creates confusion, hostility, and fear among our citizenry. This discourse has only exacerbated the xenophobia deeply entrenched in a part of the Hungarian population, and made the efforts of ordinary citizens and organizations working with asylum seekers and migrants more difficult.” [source,
Soros has poured untold millions into his global operation and is heavily invested in U.S. media to the extent that it’s difficult to determine where his hard left politics ends and where American journos begin, assuming there is any separation at all - a dubious proposition. As the Media Research Center analyzes part of the OSI/OSU U.S. effort, the left-wing faux investigative reporting group Pro-Publica, which of course has already grabbed two Pulitzers, the Soros technique comes into focus:

“For George Soros and ProPublica's other liberal backers, it was again proof that a strategy of funding journalism was a powerful way to influence the American public. It's a strategy that Soros has been deploying extensively in media both in the United States and abroad. Since 2003, Soros has spent more than $52 million funding media properties, including the infrastructure of news - journalism schools, investigative journalism and even industry organizations.” [source, Bill Gainor, Soros Spends Over $48 Million Funding Media Organizations]

PJ Media, referring to Soros as a convicted felon, [“His insider-trading conviction was upheld by the highest court in France on June 14, 2006” - Wiki] writes about his heavy involvement in undermining the integrity of the U.S. electoral process:

“The New York Times has revealed what some of us already knew: billionaire convicted felon George Soros is bankrolling attacks on election integrity laws in advance of the 2016 election…funding efforts to attack laws designed to aid election integrity in Wisconsin, North Carolina [and] Ohio…Soros is prepared to spend $5 million or more on the effort.”. [J. Christian Adams, Revealed: Convicted Felon George Soros Bankrolling Attacks On Election Integrity]

Though the incestuous nature of the U.S. media’s relationship with the left should come as no surprise, the lead role which George Soros is taking in the attempted destabilization of Europe is promulgated by the extreme nature of his politics as well as the MSM’s complicity.

As is often the case with revolutionaries, Soros’ operation is exactly the opposite of what it claims to be [example, Orwell – “war is peace]. He appropriated/co-opted and then mangled philosopher Karl Popper’s theory of the “Open Society” [he was briefly a student of Poppers]. However, Popper totally rejected the Hegelian notion of historicism [an essential component of Marxism], which utopians use to support their grand schemes, arguing that they are the irresistible result of the inevitable flow of history. Popper argued that society should be based upon the principles of classical liberalism which define the Western experience. Soros’ cultural Marxism is the antithesis of what a truly open society is, but that hasn’t stopped him from the skillful use of high sounding philosophical notions about which many have little understanding.
End note:

To say that Soros is methodical is to do a disservice to the breathtaking scope of his operation; below, a partial list of OSF’s Donor Partners:

2. American Civil Liberties Union Foundation for championing the rights of Americans, and the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights Education Fund for its defense of civil rights and civil liberties in the United States
3. American Councils for International Education for supporting and developing independent educational advising centers in the Caucasus and Central Asia
4. Arab Fund for Art and Culture for empowering contemporary artists and facilitating cultural exchanges in literature, filmmaking, performing, and visual arts in the Arab region
5. Association for Civil Rights (Argentina) and Fundación para la Libertad de Prensa (Colombia) for seeking to curtail soft censorship, including government manipulation of advertising to control media coverage, throughout Latin America
6. Baacha Khan Trust for educational programs that provide underprivileged people in Pakistan with the knowledge, skills, and critical thinking
7. William J. Brennan Jr. Center for Justice for its intellectual leadership in devising legal approaches to issues of civil liberties and democracy in the United States
8. The Campaign for Youth Justice for its work to end the U.S. practice of trying, sentencing, and incarcerating children under the age of 18 in the adult criminal justice system, and the National Juvenile Defender Center for its efforts to improve access to counsel and quality of representation for children in juvenile and criminal proceedings nationwide
10. Center on Budget and Policy Priorities for its expertise on budget and tax policy questions in the United States, and also for its International Budget Project, which promotes budget transparency and accountability in transition countries
11. Center for Community Change for its efforts to give low-income people a voice in American democracy, and the American Institute for Social Justice for providing staff and leadership training, technical assistance, research, and strategy support on issues relevant to this group
12. Center for Educational Development BILIM–Central Asia for its work supporting educational advising services in Eurasia and promoting international educational opportunities
13. Center for Global Development for efforts to reduce global poverty and inequality by assisting the newly democratic Liberian government, the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria, and the reform process in Latin America
14. Center for Public Interest Research for its support of student-directed civic and political engagement programs
15. Centro Edelstein de Pesquisas Sociais for strengthening democratic governance in Latin America and promoting the region’s voice in international forums
16. Committee to Protect Journalists and Article 19 for their work defending and upholding freedom of expression
17. Council of State Governments for providing state legislators and policymakers in the United States the resources to establish effective public policies and government programs, and the Progressive States Network for connecting progressive state legislators around common principles and developing campaigns on these issues
18. Democracy Coalition Project for working to strengthen the intergovernmental Community of Democracies process as a mechanism for democratic change
19. Drug Policy Alliance for its promotion of an alternative drug policy in the United States
20. Earth Island Institute for its work to educate 18- to 35-year-olds in the United States and Canada about the climate crisis
21. Economic Policy Institute for economic research in the United States to improve the well-being of low-income families and empowering international research institutions
22. Equal Justice Society for its work to advance racial justice in the United States, with a focus on judicial nominations and limitations on civil rights claims
23. Eurasian Harm Reduction Network, for their work to ensure access to sterile injection equipment, essential medicines, and discrimination protection for injecting drug users
24. European Network Against Racism for working to combat racism, xenophobia, anti-Semitism, and Islamophobia in all EU member states
25. European Roma Rights Center for its defense of the rights of a minority that is severely persecuted in many countries, and the Roma Education Fund for its efforts to close the gap in educational outcomes between Roma and non-Roma populations
26. European Stability Initiative for its influential analysis of the European integration process in the Balkans
27. Global Fund for Women for its advocacy on human rights for women around the world
28. Global Witness for its investigations of the connections between resource exploitation, corruption, the arms trade, and severe abuses of human rights
29. Helsinki Foundation for Human Rights in Poland for its human rights training efforts in Central Asia and Russia, as well as in Poland
30. Human Rights Watch for its leadership in protecting civil and political rights worldwide
31. Institute for International Education for its pioneering effort with the Scholar Rescue Fund, which offers safe haven to endangered scholars around the world
32. Institute on Medicine as a Profession for promoting professionalism in U.S. medicine
33. Interights for promoting respect for human rights through strategic litigation in critical areas
34. International Bridges to Justice for ensuring basic legal rights in China, Vietnam, and Cambodia, and working for long-term change in criminal justice systems
35. International Center for Transitional Justice for its assistance to transitional countries wishing to pursue accountability for mass atrocity or human rights abuse under previous regimes
36. International Crisis Group for its research and advocacy in addressing armed conflicts and other crises in international relations
37. International Step by Step Association for fostering democratic principles and promoting parent and community involvement in early childhood education, especially among minority ethnic and linguistic groups
38. International Women’s Health Coalition, Center for Reproductive Rights, and Planned Parenthood Federation of America for their work protecting and expanding reproductive health advocacy and services around the world
39. Justice at Stake Campaign for its efforts to keep the U.S. courts fair and impartial
40. Margaret Mead Film and Video Festival for presenting international documentaries on diverse and challenging subjects
41. Mayor’s Fund to Advance New York City for helping to reduce poverty in New York City and stabilize neighborhoods affected by the subprime mortgage crisis
42. Médecins Sans Frontières, AIDS Foundation East-West, Doctors of the World, and Partners in Health for their efforts in addressing crucial public health emergencies that are often connected to abuses of human rights
43. Media Development Loan Fund and the Southern Africa Media Development Fund for their role in assisting independent media to develop as self-sustaining businesses
44. Memorial Human Rights Center for monitoring and working to remedy human rights violations in the North Caucuses, particularly in Chechnya and Ingushetia
45. Mental Disability Rights International and the Mental Disability Advocacy Center Foundation for their protection of the rights of the mentally disabled
46. National Council for Civil Liberties (Liberty) in the U.K. for promoting of democratic participation, justice, openness, the right to dissent, and respect for diversity
47. National Senior Citizens Law Center for its research and advocacy on constitutional and statutory issues affecting the aged in America
48. Network of Institutes and Schools of Public Administration for fostering academic and training programs in public administration and public policy in postsocialist countries
49. Network on Police Reform in Nigeria (NOPRIN) for promoting civil society involvement in safety and security issues in Nigeria
50. New America Foundation in the United States for its efforts to oppose privatization of public airways, ensure nuclear security, and foster a new social contract among workers, employers, and the government
51. Nurcha for helping build hundreds of thousands of low-cost houses in South Africa
52. Partners Foundation for Local Development in Romania for serving as a regional support center to training institutions on innovative anticorruption approaches
53. Peace Institute in Slovenia for its efforts to promote open society principles and practices
54. Penal Reform International for its worldwide efforts to reduce incarceration and protect the rights of prison inmates
55. Policy Association for Open Society (PASOS) for harnessing the resources of think tanks to promote open society and democracy in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union
56. Project Syndicate for providing diverse commentaries to over 240 newspapers worldwide
57. Project Vote/Voting for America for registering voters in the United States and analyzing election law
58. Proteus Fund for its support of organizations working to advance social justice and the common good in the United States
59. Public Interest Law Initiative for advancing human rights around the world by stimulating public interest advocacy
60. Public Interest Projects for its U.S. work to strengthen affirmative action, human rights, immigrant’s rights, and nonpartisan civic engagement work
61. Revenue Watch Institute for its role promoting the responsible management of oil, gas, and mineral resources for the public good
62. Refugees International for advocating for lifesaving assistance and protection for displaced people
63. Renace for its work in pretrial detention reform in Mexico
64. The Sentencing Project for leading efforts in the United States to reduce excessive imprisonment
65. Southern Center for Human Rights for its work to protect the rights of the poor, people of color, and the disadvantaged in criminal courts and prison systems in the American South, and the Equal Justice Initiative of Alabama for providing legal assistance to disadvantaged people in the region
66. The Tides Center for its support of forward-thinking activists and organizations;
67. TIMAP for Justice for its pioneering efforts to provide basic justice services in Sierra Leone
68. Tiri for its efforts to promote transparency and integrity in government, business, and civil society
69. Local chapters of Transparency International for their work with Soros foundations on anticorruption measures
70. TESEV (Turkish Economic and Social Studies Foundation) for contributing to further democratization and better governance in Turkey through policy-oriented research and training
71. Vera Institute of Justice for its innovative efforts to pursue criminal justice reform programs in such countries as Russia, South Africa, and the United States

And a great many others”
Vladimir Putin: A Briefing by Ilan Berman, Courtesy of The Middle East Forum

September 28, 2015 - San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – Recently Ilan Berman [Vice president of the American Foreign Policy Council in Washington, focuses on security issues in the Middle East, Central Asia, and Russia] delivered an audio briefing at the Middle East Forum: Putin’s Middle Eastern Moves, which dealt with the nature and the implications of Vlad Putin’s direct military intervention into the multi-dimensional conflict currently underway, involving Iran, Syria and Iraq.

We wish to thank our friends at MEF for allowing us to publish the following partial transcript:

“What Russia is trying to do is to kill many birds with one stone with its Syrian intervention. There is a dominant theme…[in discourse within the U.S] that casts it in an almost U.S/Russian light, as in ‘Russia’s gain is our loss’ and ‘Russia is able to do the things that it’s doing because of the administration’s weakness…its fecklessness’…That’s true, I think as far as it goes, but the Russian perspective…is much broader…they are trying to achieve at least four strategic objectives:

1. The first and the most obvious is that they are trying to prop up the Assad regime…Putin said as much in a recent interview with Charlie Rose…

2. Russia in a very visceral way ideologically sees itself as a great power and a prerequisite for being a great power is having the ability…to project power globally and here Syria plays a very important role…the Soviet Union hammered out a basing arrangement [with Bashar Assad’s father Hafez] under which the Syrian port city of Tartus became the home port for Russia’s Mediterranean flotilla. The port of Tartus is now at least partially in peril of falling. Certainly if the Alawite [Assad’s religious sect within Shia Islam] enclave falls, Russia will lose its grip on the port city…Russia…is structuring its deployment in such a ways as to have its naval presence strengthened…the air base that the Russians are building…North of Tartus…in Latakia…is geographically intended to provide air cover for the Mediterranean flotilla as well as Assad’s force…

3 [lost in much of the media commentary] Russia is doing a lot of things in Syria because it’s not doing a lot of things elsewhere…[the Russian incursion into Ukraine isn’t going very well]…what you see is a slowing Russian case of momentum…[there is also an intention by the Russian’s to change how the West views it]…Russia hopes at least that through its intervention…[to be seen as] taking up the standard of being the West’s champion in the fight against the Islamic state’s terrorist group, Russia hopes that it can improve its…appearance in the eyes of the West…leading to greater freedom of political action…

4. And finally…and most importantly an issue about which gets talked about the least, which is how what Russia is doing plays into Russia’s own war on terror…Russia, is for very good reason extremely apprehensive over the spread of radical Islam in the Middle East and the potential ramifications that this has for Russia’s own Muslim minority…Russia’s Muslim minority is growing at a much faster rate than the rest of Russia’s population…[currently at 15%, the trend projects that number to be at] 20% by the end of the decade…you are seeing more and more penetration of radical Islamic ideas into the borders of the Russian Federation…a good external metric of this is the fact that the Islamic State terrorist group has as its newest adherent a group called the Caucasus Emirate, this is Russia’s most potent jihadi group [formerly affiliated with al-Qaeda which has] now declared formal bay’ah to the Islamic State…[the Russians] feel very keenly the potential of the Islamic State’s expanding power to threaten them directly…[the participation of Russian jihadis within the Islamic State has tripled over the period of a year]…”

Mr. Berman also makes the point that Russia’s working relationship with Iran and Syria and therefore Shia Islam, is serving as a wedge factor, angering the country’s Muslim population which is largely Sunni.

In concluding MEF’s analysis of Mr. Berman’s briefing, Marilyn Stern [Middle East Forum Board of Governors] see’s Mr. Putin’s Middle East expedition looming as a potential disaster – “Moscow’s Syria intervention seems a long term commitment that bears the hallmarks of a new Afghanistan disaster for it.”

Of course the last thing Putin or his fellow Russians wants is another Afghanistan-like debacle, but with Russia now tied down in the Ukraine as well as being increasingly sucked into the Middle East’s political/military maelstrom while its economy Teetering On The Edge Of Recession, the downside for Russia’s strongman is considerable.
INSANE ASYLUM: MUSLIM THUGS MARCH OF INTIMIDATION THROUGH HANNOVER GERMANY

October 27, 2015 - San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – As Angela Merkel works feverishly to deal with the consequences of her insane gambit to Islamize Germany, the country’s citizens are getting a front-seat demonstration of how cultural jihad works, even when the Muslim enemy still represents a small proportion of the population.

Two days ago hundreds of black clad Muslims carrying banners, one of which appears to be an ISIS flag marched through the city of Hannover, Germany while shocked citizens looked on in disbelief.

As the video unfolds the following comments were being made by onlookers.

[source, Meanwhile In An Average German City]

“None of us want this, we are all scared”

“What is this, how will this be in 100 years?”

“This is not my life. It just shows you how many of them are already here”

“Now there’s another 1.5 M who came this year”

“It’s generally about foreign infiltration, yes exactly“

“We won’t dress like we do now”
“There are walking 50 foreigners, I see only one European face”

“Look at the women, they are all veiled, wearing burka/hijab, this is our future”

There are 2,000 mosques in Germany already, that is 2,000 potential battle centers in the Islamic jihad’s long term plan to overthrow constitutional government in the West.

Yes Germany, this is your future, unless you are able to rouse yourself from this dream and resist the hijra. If you can't summon the moral courage to say no, to preserve your culture, your families and your way of life, you really no longer deserve to live in civil society.
EUROPEAN CITIZENS REARMING IN FACE OF MUSLIM INVASION

October 27, 2015 - San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – In a breaking exclusive, our friends at World Net Daily are reporting that Europeans are coming to realize that it was great folly to allow their governments to confiscate personal firearms over the last 50 years without a fight.

Now these passive and defenseless societies are coming face-to-face with the gravity of their predicament as the Continent finds itself defenseless against the horde of young, aggressive Muslim males intent upon conquest based on the ancient Islamic principle of hijra, jihad by colonial occupation.

“A Czech TV report confirms that long guns – shotguns and rifles – have been flying off the shelves in Austria…They’re all sold out. [says Allan Gottlieb, Vice President of the Second Amendment Foundation] ‘I just returned from a gun rights meeting in Belgium…all over Europe people now want the means to defend themselves, Self-defense is no longer a dirty word…I can tell you first-hand that people in Europe now wish they had a Second Amendment.’” [source, Leo Hohmann, Islamic Invasion Pulls The Trigger: Europeans Now Scramble For Guns, WND]

As we have made clear now since the phenomenon began [see, William Mayer, German Domino About To Fall: Razor Wire Considered To Stop Islamic Invasion] that this is Islamic warfare, clever in its execution because it will not require the force of arms to completely change the demographic of such tiny nations as Sweden, Denmark, the Netherlands etc.

Since Europe’s citizens foolishly surrendered their right to defend themselves decades ago we make two predictions:

1. There will be frenzied efforts by citizens to push the architects of their socialist dystopias to lessen restrictions on the personal ownership of firearms.

2. Rightly believing that such efforts will be rebuffed, a huge firearms black market will develop in these countries as the largely Caucasian native populations [if this term offends you then please stop reading and leave] refuse to allow their ancient cultures to be over-run by Middle East barbarians.

This is not idle or hopeful speculation as the Czech Republic is home to Česká Zbrojovka a.s [better known in the free world as CZ] a huge arms manufacturer which produces the entire gamut of weapons, pistols, rim fire and center fire rifles, shotguns and genuine military grade assault weapons. CZ has a well deserved reputation for quality and it will only be a matter of time before individuals on the Continent will have the ability to assert one of the core principles of English Common Law, that a man’s home is his castle and that he has the right to defend it as he sees best.

American gun grabbers had better take note; you are sailing against the winds of a history which is playing out in front of your eyes. This country will never allow itself to go the way of emasculated Europe.
OIL PRICE INSTABILITY OPENS THE WAY FOR ISIS’ STRATEGY TO DOMINATE ISLAM

October 26, 2015 - San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – In a fascinating piece published by the Middle East Forum [see, David P. Goldman Cheap Oil Puts the House of Saud at Risk] the author details the seismic waves which are starting to rock the Saudi government:

“Saudi Arabia spends money like there's no tomorrow. A new report from the International Monetary Fund suggests that there might not be a tomorrow for the House of Saud. Without massive spending cuts, the Kingdom will exhaust its monetary reserves in five years at current oil prices, the IMF reckons.”

Far from merely being a regional matter, should the Saudi government seriously falter [it would not be the first time] more revolutionary Muslim forces are prepared to exploit the unrest, potentially toppling the government. Towards that end ISIS has already mounted a serious attack in the area, bombing a mosque in the city of Abha [Southern Saudi Arabia, near the country’s border with Yemen] killing at least 15 just 6 weeks ago as a show of force.

As Mr. Goldman states, predictions of the demise of the Saudi kingdom have left more than a few prognosticators red-faced over the years as the government has been able to curb such threats, bribing the malcontents.

But the huge income disparity between the ultra-rich Saudi princes and the desperately poor general population constitute political dynamic which will be difficult to sustain in the face of falling oil revenues because of the current world-wide petroleum glut.

The sectarian nature of Islam is of course an important factor in the equation as the genuine power behind the royal throne rests in the hands of the country’s Wahhabist clerics who extract a heavy price, demanding that the more secularly inclined royal family continue to allow the radical ideology to be spread abroad through the financing of foreign mosques and madrassas as well as funding Sunni insurgencies, some of which are now fighting in Syria and Iraq.

Many are unaware of the threat China faces in at least one province due to Islamist separatists:

“A Chinese official told me recently that the one thing China fears in the Middle East is Saudi Arabia, which is funding Wahhabist madrassahs in China's Muslim-majority Western state of Xinjiang.”

Xinjiang Province is the home to a jihadist group the Eastern Turkistan Islamic Movement which was designated over a decade ago, under President George W. Bush’s Executive Order 13224, as an FTO and subsequently added to a similar list maintained by the United Nations.

“The Eastern Turkistan Islamic Movement is an organization that includes components in Kyrgyzstan, Afghanistan, Uzbekistan, Kazakhstan, Pakistan, and the Xinjiang Province of China. The ETIM's aim is the establishment of a fundamentalist Muslim state to be called "East Turkistan." To that end, from 1990 to 2001 elements of the Eastern Turkistan Islamic Movement have reportedly committed over 200 acts of terrorism, resulting in at least 162 deaths and over 440 injuries. [source, U.S. Treasury Department, Treasury Department On Addition Of ETIM To Terrorist List]

Financial links between Saudi Uyghurs and the ETIM have kept that pot boiling to the extent that the Chinese Communist government is reversing its limited policy of relaxing its long time suppression of religious expression with Xinjiang being the lead driver.

ISIS, as is the case with all jihadist groups, continues to threaten the environs in which it operates, but its reach and grasp extends far beyond the borders which make up Syria and Iraq. The real danger is that as the organization further professionalizes and grows stronger, its ability to project force at a distance also increases.

This is bad news especially for Saudi Arabia and Egypt whose governments absolutely require increasing oil revenue to maintain the wobbly status quo. Without the stabilizing effect these nations bring to the region the entire Middle East could rapidly head towards a melt-down, with little to stop the most radical elements in an already extreme movement from lighting that fuse.
WHAT DIFFERENCE DOES IT MAKE? - THE MYSTERIOUS AMBASSADOR CHRIS STEVENS

By WILLIAM MAYER

October 22, 2015 - San Francisco, CA - PipeLineNews.org - Editor's Note: Today, Thursday, October 22, 2015, ex-Secretary of State [and current Democrat candidate for president] Hillary Clinton will testify at 10 am EST in public before The House Select Committee on Benghazi [live link]. While we have been extremely disappointed in the performance of the Committee in general and specifically the Committee Chair, Trey Gowdy due to his apparent loss of courage in pursuing the matter with the necessary amount of vigor, we will, along with the part of the American public which has followed this matter, defer final judgment until the day's proceeding have taken their course.

With that in mind we are reprinting a piece we originally published on May 15, 2013 which drew what we feel then, and even more strongly believe today to be the only reasonable explanation regarding the events surrounding the Benghazi attack on September 11, 2012 - that the Obama administration, via its Secretary of State, Mrs. Clinton, was involved in an elaborate [and most likely illegal] covert plan to arm jihadists in both Libya and Syria in an amateurish attempt to mold that part of the most volatile area in the world to conform with Obama's grand - and frankly insane - pro-Muslim Brotherhood foreign policy...

Ok, it's clear now to anyone who happened to watch more than a few minutes of Wednesday's testimony by State Department officials before Darrell Issa's House Oversight and Government Reform Committee that Team Obama has, to use the vernacular, lied its ass off in an effort to cover-up the Benghazi affair.

However perhaps the most important question - aside from investigating the actual terrorist attack on the Benghazi compound by elements of Ansar al-Shari'a - remains unanswered...why on earth was J. Christopher Stevens in Benghazi, Libya in the first place?

At the time of his clandestine arrival, Benghazi was one of the strongholds for the rebels - i.e., jihadists attempting to overthrow then dictator Moammar Gadhaffi.
Stevens had not yet been named as an ambassador [his tragically short ambassadorial career spanned a little over 90 days from June 7, 2012 to September 12, 2012].

So why was he there?

Stevens arrived in the dead of night, ferried to Libya in a commercial Greek cargo ship, a very unusual way to enter a country if one's purpose is to begin a high level diplomatic assignment.

"...During the early days of the Libyans' fight to overthrow Moammar Gadhafi, Christopher Stevens wrangled a ride on a Greek cargo ship and sailed into the rebels' stronghold city of Benghazi. He arrived at a time when the crackle of gunfire could be heard each night..." [source, Amy Bingham, Slain Ambassador Chris Stevens Slipped Into Libya on a Cargo Ship During Revolution, ABC News]

Below, an account of the circumstances surrounding Steven's mysterious arrival, courtesy of the State Department Magazine:

"The story of how the agent got there began in February when the large catamaran ferry Maria Dolores eased into the rocky harbor at Valletta, Malta. Her passengers included American diplomats, who had hurriedly evacuated after conflict erupted in Libya and their safety and security could no longer be assured in Tripoli. Over the next two months, these same diplomats joined the international effort to support Libya’s revolution and march toward democracy and freedom.

By early April, with Benghazi firmly in rebel hands, a dozen intrepid U.S. diplomats equipped with armored vehicles and communications gear set sail from the same port, passing Valletta’s ancient harbor fortress and cruising into the blue Mediterranean beyond the breakwater. The Libya of April was a dramatically changed place from the Libya of February. "We arrived April 5th," recalled the expedition’s leader Special Envoy Chris Stevens. "It was difficult to get there at the time. There weren’t any flights. So we came in by a Greek cargo ship and unloaded our gear and our cars and set up our office there..."

The Business Insider goes into further detail regarding Chris Stevens running armaments to the Syrian "rebels," whom we know are really roving bands of jihadists, many linked to the al-Qaeda that Mr. Obama so brilliantly destroyed during his first term.

"...In March 2011 Stevens became the official U.S. liaison to the al-Qaeda-linked Libyan opposition, working directly with Abdelhakim Belhadj of the Libyan..."
Islamic Fighting Group - a group that has now disbanded, with some fighters reportedly participating in the attack that took Stevens' life. In November 2011, the Telegraph reported that Belhadj, acting as head of the Tripoli Military Council, "met with Free Syrian Army [FSA] leaders in Istanbul and on the border with Turkey" in an effort by the new Libyan government to provide money and weapons to the growing insurgency in Syria..." [source, Michael Kelly, How US Ambassador Chris Stevens May Have Been Linked To Jihadist Rebels In Syria]

Stevens was appointed by then Secretary of State Hillary Clinton as the official liaison - between the United States and the Libyan rebels who eventually toppled Gadhaffi.

"The Obama administration’s new liaison with the Libyan opposition will be diplomat Chris Stevens, who had been the number two official at the U.S. Embassy in Tripoli until it was suspended when fighting began last month, according to two U.S. officials. Stevens attended Secretary of State Hillary Clinton's meeting in Paris tonight with representatives of the Libyan opposition, as did the U.S. Ambassador to Libya Gene Cretz, who has also had contacts with the opposition." [source, Kirit Radia, U.S. Names Chris Stevens Liaison to Libyan Opposition, ABC News]

Abdulhakim Belhadj would have to have been the contact Stevens dealt with given his unchallenged prominence among Libya rebel leaders.

"Abdulhakim Belhadj, head of the Tripoli Military Council and the former leader of the Libyan Islamic Fighting Group, "met with Free Syrian Army leaders in Istanbul and on the border with Turkey," said a military official working with Mr. Belhadj. "Mustafa Abdul Jalil (the interim Libyan president) sent him there."

“The ‘covert operation’ was immediately laid bare when a rival Libyan rebel brigade detained Belhaj at Tripoli airport, accused him of travelling on a fake passport, and declared they would jail the senior military leader...The meetings came as a sign of a growing ties between Libya's fledgling government and the Syrian opposition..." [source, Leading Libyan Islamist met Free Syrian Army opposition group, The Telegraph]

This budding relationship between Syria's jihadist rebels and the jihadists who overthrew Gadhaffi resulted in a delivery of 400 tons on military hardware including thousands of surface-to-air missiles. The vessel, Libyan, docked in Turkey, whose government then transferred the weaponry to the Syrians engaged in attempting to depose Bashar al-Assad. [source, Largest Shipload of Libyan Weapons Heading to Armed Groups in Syria, Libyan Free Press]

The handiwork of Stevens is written all over this operation as no one had the requisite relationships with Libya's rebels and following the revolution Libya's president Mohammed Magariaf, himself a revolutionary Muslim. Additionally no one had the ear of president Obama on this matter to the degree demonstrated by Stevens.
In substantiation of the above charge regarding Magariaf, please read Andrew Bostom's detailed presentation - Libya's "Classical Liberal" Islamist President - a portion of which is below quoted:

"'But this does not mean at all that the constitution or any laws and legislation should contain anything that clashes with or is in contradiction to Islamic sharia and its objectives.'

He reiterated that viewpoint at the inauguration ceremony of the Maydan al-Shuhada [Martyrs’ Square] Mosque in the northwestern Libyan city of Al-Zawiya three weeks later (October 21, 2012). After thanking the denizens of Al-Zawiya for inviting him and members of the (Libyan) General National Congress to take part in "laying down the cornerstones of Allah’s house [i.e., the Maydan al-Shuhada Square mosque]," Al-Muqaryaf proclaimed,

'On this occasion I want to reassure you that the constitution is laid down in a Muslim country, with all its residents Muslim, and it cannot rely on anything other than Islamic Shari’ah as the fundamental source of legislation in the country...""

The preponderance of the evidence thus far - with more information certainly to come - is that no one but Chris Stevens had the authorization, the connections, expertise, resources and diplomatic cover which would have been essential, but J. Christopher Stevens.

So gentle readers, when former Secretary Clinton rages while screaming "what difference does it make?" now you know.

The entire Benghazi diplomatic gambit has proven to be an unmitigated disaster [as has Obama's fairy-tale "reset" of relations with the Muslim world].

1. It resulted in the rise of an Islamist as president of Libya

2. Stevens' action strengthened the hand of jihadist groups in the region because the fall of Gadhaffi resulted in loosing of probably 20,000 surface to air missiles on to the world's terrorist black market as well making Libya's now battle tested mujahideen available to work their mischief in hot-spots such as Syria.

3. The arms transfer to Syria via Turkey went primarily to al-Qaeda main, its many affiliates and similarly motivated jihadists in that country...tantamount to an endorsement of Islamic jihad by Team Obama.

[note: one major aspect of the Syrian civil war which is beyond the scope of this piece but bears consideration is the fratricidal angle, wherein this conflict also involves a continuation of the 1,400 year old schismatic blood feud between Sunni and Shia Muslims which resulted from the dispute over the successor to Mohammed upon his death in 632. Yet it must also be remembered that despite such ancient grievances, the Great Satan still remains the U.S. and the West and this belief unites jihadists of all stripes into temporary, but always shaky alliances - witness Shia Iran providing safe harbor to various Sunni al-Qaeda types.]

Given the character - or lack thereof - of Mr. Obama and his ex Secty of State Clinton we would not be surprised that Chris Stevens, Glen Doherty, Tyrone Woods and Sean Smith were allowed to die simply on the theory that dead men tell no tales.

Let's be completely clear on that point - based upon the evidence so far presented we find it difficult to dismiss the dark possibility that Mr. Obama and Mrs. Clinton intentionally abandoned Stevens and the brave Americans who defended the U.S. embassy, hoping that with their demise the issue would just "go away."

In the real world, Team Obama's actions in this wretched matter come very close to the statutory definition of negligent homicide, but in the world which the president and the Clintons occupy, it's just the politics of personal destruction carried to its natural conclusion.

We doubt that Speaker Boehner has the stones to pursue this matter properly, adding it as a charge in a bill of impeachment, but it would be the right course to take. In support of this rather harsh judgment of the Speaker might we suggest that it is Mr. Boehner who is the sole road-block to the establishment of a special committee of Congress, with full subpoena power, to professionally investigate these various matters. Therefore we endorse the methodology suggested by former Watergate Fred Thompson [minority counsel to the GOP during the Watergate proceedings]:

"...The special committee should hire respected, experienced counsel. The counsel should be responsible for the committee staff, and have the authority to question all of the public witnesses. Giving the counsel 30 or 45 minutes in which to question each witness will ensure all of the appropriate facts see the light of day. The current practice of giving each committee member five minutes, with each usually having his own line of questioning, is not designed to get to the bottom of anything. A hostile or reluctant witness doesn’t even have to be especially clever to avoid having to answer anything of substance in just five minutes..." [source, National Review]

Barack Obama, by his actions, has made it clear that his presidency represents a growing threat to the security of the United States; the sooner he is removed from office, for cause, the better.
September 21, 2015 - San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – WikiLeaks has just started publishing what the organization is representing as being the contents of Director of Central Intelligence, John Brennan’s email account.

So far, the perp has only been identified as an unnamed high school student.

Perhaps he is sitting patiently by the phone waiting for his invite by President Obama to the oval office ala Ahmed Clockboy Mohamed?

How such a relatively inexperienced hacker could crack any account relating to the man who allegedly runs the top U.S. intelligence agency is simply beyond comprehension. Admittedly Brennan is probably the dullest implement in Obama’s dystopian toolbox. Nonetheless he is, like it or not, the director of an organization which, until recently was feared across the globe for its ability to make enemies of the United States just go away forever [somewhere Che Guevara is nodding his head in the affirmative].

Under different circumstances an incident this serious would have already resulted in Brennan being unceremoniously escorted off the grounds at Langley and the perp frog-walked by Federal marshals to an armored SUV pointed towards the closest super-max prison.

Alas, those days apparently are long gone. We hear nothing but the sound of chirping crickets coming from the U.S. House of Representative which presently is engaged in a furious effort to find someone as incompetent, inebriated and untrustworthy as John Boehner to run the Stupid Party.

We have no intention of publishing anything which might damage American national security but since the information is already out there, we will provide our readers with a link to the website and let them decide for themselves.

WikiLeaks Info Dump.
EUROPE’S MUSLIM INVADERS CONTINUE SUBJUGATION OF CHRISTIAN MINORITIES

September 21, 2015 - San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – We learn today from a piece written by ME authority Raymond Ibrahim [who is fluent in Arabic] that as the hijra of military aged Muslim males continues to bleed into Europe they are bringing with them the same Shari’a borne anti-Christian bigotry which was the rule in their native Syria [or Turkey or Iraq or??].

“According to a September 30 report, in Germany, ‘Many Christian refugees from Syria, Iraq or Kurdistan are being intimidated and attacked by Muslim refugees. In several refugee centers set up by the local authorities, Sharia law is being imposed and Christians - which are a minority - are the victims of bullying.’” [source, Raymond Ibrahim, Christians Persecuted Even In The West, Islam Translated]

This is a pervasive problem, not one specific to the “refugees” in Germany:

“In Sweden, a July report told of how two small families of Christian asylum seekers were harassed and abused by approximately 80 Muslim asylum seekers from Syria. The Christians and Muslims—described by one Swedish newspaper as “fundamentalist Islamists”—resided in the same asylum house. As in Germany, the Muslims ordered the Christians not to use communal areas and not to wear their crosses around their necks”

The pattern is much the same throughout the free world; wherever these new Muslim immigrants land, rape, murder, gang violence, religious intimidation and similar crimes instantly spike.

The effect is chilling, as we noted yesterday [see, William Mayer, German Domino About To Fall: Razor Wire Wall Considered To Stop Invasion, PipeLineNews.org]

“Protests throughout the normally stoic German populace have grown in numbers and ferocity, spiked by the outrage over the prospect of ‘becoming strangers in their own homeland.’”

And:

“Despite the hysterical coverage by much of the media, news is leaking out, a “Culture Of Rape Takes Hold In The Refugee Camps.” [see, Rachel Stoltzfoos, Daily Caller, September 25, 2015]

If the matter were not so deadly serious, the sight of the MSM taking upon itself the role of latter-day Baghdad Bobs, trying to convince an aroused and now thoroughly aware European public, that in essence, “move it along, there’s nothing going on here,” would be comical.

Unfortunately it’s impossible to shame the shills and propagandists as they continue to portray the Islamic hijra, which threatens to totally engulf tiny democracies such as Denmark and Sweden, as being somehow of great benefit to the West.

Those who are actually bearing witness to the combative behavior and warlike attitude prevalent among the new Muslim arrivals have wisely chosen to believe what their eyes are telling them rather than absorbing the bilge being spewed by the media.
GERMAN DOMINO ABOUT TO FALL: RAZOR WIRE WALL
CONSIDERED TO STOP ISLAMIC INVASION

By WILLIAM MAYER

September 20, 2015 - San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – German Chancellor Angela Merkel is on the verge of losing her once iron grip on the government as Rainer Wendt, president of the German Police Union is calling for the erection of barriers to prevent the country from being overrun by Muslims.

"If we close our borders in this way, Austria will also close the border with Slovenia. That's exactly the effect we need," he told the Welt am Sonntag. [source, Jess Saufenberg, Germany Should Build A Fence Says Chief Of German Police Union, UK Independent]

Merkel until very recently has been a sublime caricature of the EuroWeenie, advocating that the economic heart of the failing EU accept as many as 1M of the young, military age Muslim males streaming into Eastern Europe and from there into the German Federal Republic.

But all that has changed over the last 10 days as Hungary last week constructed a razor wire fence to stop the flow of the hijra.

It is believed that if [when] Germany follows through with constructing its barrier that Austria will follow suit in short order, giving a kind of unofficial imprimatur to the “novel” concept of reestablishing the national borders that had effectively been eliminated due to the 1985 Shengen Agreement.

Protests throughout the normally stoic German populace have grown in numbers and ferocity, spiked by the outrage over the prospect of “becoming strangers in their own homeland.”

Of course the media is undaunted in efforts to demonize the “nativists,” portraying them as knuckle-dragging thugs and Islamophobic hooligans. But the multicultural elite, who don’t have to live in the jihadist pig-sty the violence prone jihadists are bringing with them, are largely being ignored as perhaps for the first time since the Second World War,
Europe’s lumpenproletariat is coming to recognize that their very way of life lies in the balance.

Despite the hysterical coverage by much of the media, news is leaking out, a “Culture Of Rape Takes Hold In The Refugee Camps.” [see, Rachel Stoltzfoos, Daily Caller, September 25, 2015]

“.‘It is a fact that women and children are unprotected,” [claims] a letter from four women’s organizations to the state of Hesse, Germany’…This situation is opportune to those men who already regard women as their inferior and treat unaccompanied women as ‘fair game.’…As a consequence, there are reports of numerous rapes, sexual assaults and increasingly of forced prostitution…These are not isolated incidents.”

It is indeed unfortunate that the people of Europe apparently need an object lesson in how Islam actually operates rather than the story-book fable they have been force-fed, many since birth, that all societies and belief systems are of equal merit.

Once brought face-to-face with the effects of their foolishness they are responding as any healthy culture would when imperiled by an existential threat that was entirely preventable.

So while Merkel is doing everything she can possibly do to extricate herself from the growing crisis, almost 190 German legislators are, as of this writing, putting together a plan to break the progressive/Marxist spell from which Europe finally seems to be awakening.
ARAB JIHADISTS TORCH JOSEPH’S TOMB

By WILLIAM MAYER

September 16, 2015 – San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – The Intifada continues in Israel as last night a mob of Arab jihadist set fire to the Tomb of Joseph near the city of Nablus.

“Hundreds of Palestinians entered the Joseph's Tomb compound…and set it on fire, severely damaging the Jewish holy site in what Israel called a "despicable" act…The overnight violence came amid calls for another "day of rage" in the region…Hours after the tomb was torched, an Israeli soldier was stabbed…near the West Bank city of Hebron…The attacker had disguised himself as a news photographer and was shot dead, the IDF added.” [source, Palestinians Set Fire to Joseph's Tomb Amid Calls for 'Day of Rage', NBC]

Note: we intentionally removed the offensive portion of the above quote which suggested that the IDF soldier, who had been stabbed sustained only minor injuries. Might we hazard a guess that if the article's authors, Lawahez Jabari, Yael Factor and Alastair Jamieson had been the victims of such “slight” wounds they might well still be in intensive care, as well as having been traumatized for life.

Not being familiar with Israeli criminal law we won’t hazard a guess as to what the charges would have been since the perp has assumed room temperature [an excellent example of genuine “gun control”] however in the United States, if he had survived, this slug would have been charged, minimally, with aggravated assault, battery and attempted murder. Finally…news flash…the invented term “Palestine” is the hand-maiden of Jew hatred.

Such is the pigsty journo in which most of the West is currently wallowing.

That aside, Joseph’s Tomb is revered as the burial place for the 11th child of Jacob who was sold into slavery by his brothers, jealous over the perception that he was his father’s favorite. The site has come under attack by increasingly bellicose Arab squatters living in the West Bank because of its close connection to Judaism.

At some point, the Netanyahu government is going to have to stop dealing with the Arab predation as an unrelated series of attacks and recognize, hopefully in a public manner, that this is Islamic jihad and future incidents will be met with the extreme use of “disproportionate” force.

At the same time Mr. Netanyahu better rouse himself from whatever delusion he is laboring under and understand that President Obama, his Secretary of State, the estimable John Kerry and this administration as a whole are motivated by a strong undercurrent of anti-Semitism and have made the deadly calculation that it is Iran’s destiny to control this sector of the Middle East which the president has intentionally destabilized.

While some might be puzzled why the CIC is conducting U.S. foreign policy in such a brutish manner, it’s no mystery to this writer. Obama is comporting himself in a manner that is in full compliance with the dictates of Islamic supremacism, with a hard bias toward the Shia Muslim sect. We also see the vengeful hand of Valerie Jarrett in fashioning her boss’ already skewed world-view.

Team Obama is thus a natural enemy of the Jewish state and we are growing weary of others who seek to clothe this issue in anything but the starkest terms. The prospect of the terrorist Mahmoud Abbas [Abu Mazen] asking for an investigation of the fire is absurd.

He should already be in custody for incitement to murder.
“PALESTINIAN” BAR ASSOCIATION TO HONOR DEAD 19 YEAR OLD TERRORIST “MARTYR” WITH HONORARY LAW DEGREE

September 14, 2015 – San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – It appears that the current wave of jihad being waged by Israel’s Arab population against the Jewish people [6 attacks in less than 48 hrs, 4 killed, dozens hurt or traumatized] has been deemed insufficiently harmful by the terrorists. In response, the so-called “Palestinian Bar Association” is now in the process of awarding an honorary law degree to Muhannad Halabi who killed two innocent civilians in Jerusalem.

“The Palestinian Bar Association - which receives major funding from the United Nations and European Union - has decided to award an honorary law degree to Muhannad Halabi, the 19-year-old Palestinian law student who stabbed two Israelis to death in Jerusalem's Old City on Oct. 3 before being killed by Israeli security forces, according to a report published by the Middle East Media Research Institute on Sunday.” [source, Palestinian Legal Group Honors Terrorist Who Killed Two Israelis, Israel Hayom]

As we have recently noted [see, Arab Intifada Against Israel Gains Traction – 3 Killed In 4 Muslim Attacks and Netanyahu Demands Accountability Over Murder Of Two Israelis In Front Of Couple’s Children ] the Muslim Intifada against the Jewish people has shifted into overdrive with the current phase having had its start over right of Jewish access to the Old City of Jerusalem’s Temple Mount, the most sacred site in Judaism.

The actions of the PaleBar are indicative of a truth that most in the West do not want to hear…there is no “moderate” Islam. The pseudo-religious political doctrine embodied in the Qur’an and Hadith is about one thing, forcing all non-Muslims to submit, convert or die usually in some unspeakably gristly manner.

Certainly there are religious trappings associated with Islamic fundamentalism, but its core counsel has always served as a device to justify expansion of the hegemonic ideology of domination through some form of jihad, most frequently obscene violence.

In its current morally weakened state, Western leaders have become such blithering appeasers that they are willingly inviting a massive invasion of Europe by military aged Syrian males numbering in the hundreds-of-thousands [hijra - jihad by sheer occupation] rather than risk being labeled as bigots.

This is certain proof that the future of the West is now hanging by a thread which the European and American elites appear to be in competition to sever.

We believe that the Oslo Syndrome is at work here, as the type of actions which the civilized world is now engaged, accepting and even welcoming - the importation of an Islamic jihadist expeditionary force - clearly signifies the presence of a mental disorder.
The term, Oslo Syndrome, was identified in psychiatrist Dr. Kenneth Levine’s groundbreaking research which revealed a type of psychosis which can be induced within a population living under continuous siege.

The stress of trying to exist under such conditions leads to an identification with and acceptance of the false critique of its oppressors:

“Segments of populations under chronic siege commonly embrace the indictments of the besiegers, however bigoted and outrageous. They hope that by doing so and reforming accordingly they can assuage the hostility of their tormenters and win relief. This has been an element of the Jewish response to anti-Semitism throughout the history of the Diaspora. The paradigm on the level of individual psychology is the psychodynamics of abused children, who almost invariably blame themselves for their predicament, ascribe it to their being "bad," and nurture fantasies that by becoming "good" they can mollify their abusers and end their torment.” [source, Dr. Kenneth Levin, The Psychology of Populations under Chronic Siege, Jerusalem Center for Public Affairs]

It is beyond our means to determine where the West goes from here, now that it is busily painting itself into a corner. So far a forced silence has been the major response, as objections to what is going on are being met with the full force and fury of a civilization which has – in an autistic manner – turned in upon itself.
THE ONE-MINUTE GUIDE TO OBAMA'S FOREIGN POLICY

By Daniel Pipes, PhD, President of the Middle East Forum

October 14, 2015 - San Francisco, CA - PipeLineNews.org - We who follow U.S. foreign policy, and especially the Middle East, sometimes get asked whether Barack Obama is a community organizing naïf way out of his depth or a brilliant ideologue who knows exactly what he is doing? Is he inept or purposeful? Does he see his foreign policy as a failure or a success? My reply:

Not one or the other but a bit of both. He is a leftist who sees the imperialism, militarism, and corporate greed of the United States as a menace to the outside world. He conceives of his role being to reach out to enemies, reduce America's cowboy ways, make it one of the pack, and render the world a safer place.

But he is also the president on whose watch we find not security but anarchy and despotism. Reduced America's influence has lead to revolutions in Tunisia and Egypt, renewed civil wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, conflagrations in Libya, Yemen, and Syria, Russian military intervention, and unfathomable future troubles from a nuclear Iran.

In other words, Obama's policy is purposeful but the consequences are not.
ARAB INTIFADA AGAINST ISRAELIS GAINS TRACTION – 3
KILLED IN 4 MUSLIM ATTACKS

September 13, 2015 – San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – Over the last 24 hours, Arab jihadists have mounted 4 separate attacks against Israeli Jews.

The first incident involved a knife wielding Muslim resident of Ra’anana who stabbed a man waiting for the bus. The victim is in the hospital now but is expected to survive, the terrorist [laudably] sustained massive injuries during apprehension.

An hour later two jihadists attempted to commandeer a bus full of passengers, shouting the traditional Muslim battle cry, Allahu Akbar, one opened fire with a gun while the other started randomly stabbing the terrified riders. Security on the bus killed the gunman and the other was apprehended by a passing motorist.

Shortly afterward another Arab terrorist drove a vehicle into a crowd which had assembled at a bus stop, exited the vehicle and commenced stabbing and hacking people with a meat cleaver, killing a rabbi in the process.

At almost the same time the fourth such attack took place at a café where the assailant repeatedly stabbed customers until he was chased from the establishment by the enraged patrons and was shortly thereafter run over by a truck and apprehended.

Western news coverage of the slaughter is spotty at best with Time Mag typically placing the blame on Israeli security personnel while not even mentioning today’s attempted massacres.

The headline should say it all, clearly the knuckle-dragging author of the piece needs a course in remedial English - "Clashes have broke [sic] out in Jerusalem, the West Bank, and the Gaza Strip."

“Clashes broke out between Israeli forces and Palestinian protesters in Jerusalem last month. Since then, the riots have spread to the West Bank and the Gaza Strip, and the violence has escalated with each week. Tensions are high, and peace prospects between the two sides appear to have hit a new nadir…”

No mention that all of the violence has been due to the murderous intent harbored by many Israeli Arabs, of course much of if whipped up by the PA's terrorist in chief, Mahmoud Abbas [Abu Mazen].
We suggest that Israel show far less restraint in response to Islamic violence. Perhaps the next attack should be met with the expulsion of the residents of an entire block of Arab housing in East Jerusalem, followed by the structures being bulldozed into rubble.

But what about the residents?

Let them plead their case to their hateful demigod, Allah…

_Editor’s note: Many of the facts in the preceding piece were obtained from the Israeli news outlet, Algemeiner, please refer to 3 Dead, Dozens Wounded, in 4 Terror Attacks in Israel, for more complete details. The news organization has distinguished itself with its factual coverage of the new intifada._
Both Hitler and the German Nazis Courted Iran

By Emerson Vermaat

October 12, 2015 – San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org - On November 4, 1937, Nazi leader and German “Reich Chancellor” Adolf Hitler had a very friendly conversation with Rader Arashteh, the new Iranian ambassador to Germany. The ambassador emphasized that there existed “sincere friendship” between Germany and Iran. Hitler, in turn, praised the Iranian government. A brief account of that meeting was published in the official Nazi Party newspaper “Völkischer Beobachter” of November 5, 1937. I found this article in German historical archives in Berlin.

Max Domarus, an anti-Nazi German writer and historian, published Hitler’s most important speeches and proclamations (with many critical observations from Domarus himself). He describes how Hitler sent a congratulatory telegram to Iranian Shah Reza (or Reza Shah) on the occasion of the latter’s birthday on March 5, 1941. And on March 20, 1941, Hitler sent another congratulatory telegram to the Shah on the occasion of the Iranian Nauruz Spring festival.

It was obvious that Hitler and the Nazis courted Iran and the Iranians. Iran in turn was interested in German economic and technical assistance.

Back in 1953 Richard N. Frye, Harvard Professor of Iranian studies, wrote an interesting study on Iran. He points out that:

“Reza Shah was suspicious of the Russians and the British, so it was only natural that he would turn to (Nazi) Germany for technical advisors. With the advent of Hitler, Germany showed a new interest in Iran, and technicians, doctors, and various advisors were sent on terms usually favorable to Iran. Trade between the two countries developed apace so that Germany was receiving 4 per cent of Iran’s foreign trade at the outbreak of war.”

Things changed in September 1941 when the Russians and the British occupied Iran and forced the pro German Shah Reza to abdicate in favor of his son Mohammad Reza Pahlavi who sided with the allies during World War II.

It was on June 3, 1943, that a very high ranking Nazi official, Ernst Kaltenbrunner, wrote a letter on “impending parliamentary elections in Iran” to Joachim von Ribbentrop, Hitler’s Foreign Minister. Kaltenbrunner was the Chief of the notorious Security Police and Security Service or SIPO/SD. He was also the deputy of Heinrich Himmler, the chief of the SS. The SS and SIPO played a leading role in the Holocaust, mass executions and other war crimes in the occupied parts Eastern Europe, the Baltic States, Ukraine, White Russia and Russia between 1941 and 1945.

Kaltenbrunner’s letter was published as Document Number 178-USSR by the International Military Tribunal (IMT) in Nuremberg, Germany, in 1949. Kaltenbrunner wrote about “Germany’s chances of influencing the elections (in Iran) in competition with England and Russia; money for bribes needed from the German Foreign Office for this purpose.”

Kaltenbrunner pointed out that “the mood of the (Iranian) people is in our favor.” (“Unsere Voraussichten seien sehr gut, da die Stimmung des Volkes für uns sei.”) It is not very well-known, but Ribbentrop was also a high ranking SS-officer – a so-called SS-Obergruppenführer – since July 1940, that is. (See Ribbentrop’s letter to Heinrich Himmler, dated July 12, 1940.)

Gerhard Höpp, a notable German Orientalist who died in December 2003, wrote an important essay on Nazi policies vis à vis Islam. He quotes Erwin Ettel, the Nazi ambassador in Iran between October 1939 and August 1941 and a personal friend of Haj Amin Al-Husseini, the anti-Semitic Grand Mufti of Jerusalem. In February 1941 Ettel reported from Tehran that Islamic clerics in Iran believed that Hitler was the long expected “Twelfth Imam sent by God into the world.”

The Shiite version of Islam claims that the so-called Twelth Imam or twelfth descendant of Mohammed or “Mahdi” or “Hidden Imam,” disappeared or went into hiding in 874, but will return at the end of time as the redeemer of Islam and mankind.

Ettel quoted from Hitler’s book Mein Kampf: “Hence today I believe that I am acting in accordance with the will of the Almighty Creator: by defending myself against the Jews, I am fighting for the work of the Lord.” The Nazi ambassador to Tehran then recommended to link this quote for use as propaganda, to suitable verses from the Koran, to Sura 5 verse 85, for example. (“So Allah rewarded them for what they said, with Gardens wherein rivers flow to abide in them. And that is the reward of the doers of good.”)

Iran’s anti-Semitic leadership committed to the destruction of Israel

After the fall of the pro-Western Shah Reza Pahlavi in 1979, a religious fanatic - Ayatolla Ruhollah Khomeini - became Iran’s new ruler. He claimed to be “the supreme religious leader.” Hitler was also addressed as “the leader.” Khomeini was an anti-Semitic and totalitarian hate cleric who wanted to restore Iran’s glory and power. In October 1988 Ali Akbar Hashemi Rafsanjani, the chairman of the Iranian parliament, said: “We should fully equip ourselves both in the offensive and defensive use of chemical, bacteriological, and radiological weapons.” Khomeini died in 1989. Khomeini and his successor Ayatolla Ali Khamenei repeatedly called for the destruction of Israel. Jews and Israelis abroad were also targeted by Iranian agents and terrorists, for example in Argentina (in 1992 and 1994) and Bulgaria (in 2012). On July 18, 1994, the building of the Argentine Israelite Mutual Association (AMIA) in Buenos Aires was targeted by a suicide bomber linked to Iran and Hezbollah and 85 people were killed. Rafsanjani was president of Iran at the time.

Major perpetrators of the Holocaust such as Adolf Eichmann and Josef Mengele fled to Argentina after the war. Iran’s genocidal incitement against Israel and the Israelis reminds me of the Nazis and Hitler. On October 25, 1941, Hitler addressed his inner circle and said: “It’s not a bad idea, by the way, that public rumor attributes to us a plan to exterminate the Jews.” “The attempt to create a Jewish state will be a failure.” Among those present were Heinrich Himmler and his deputy Reinhard Heydrich, the architects of the Holocaust.

It was under the guidance of Iran’s current “supreme leader” Ali Khamenei that Iran began to enrich uranium on a massive scale, employing centrifuge enrichment technology. There is no doubt about the purpose of this nuclear enrichment program: Iran wants nuclear weapons.

The “Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action” (JCPOA) signed in July 2015 by the P5+1 world powers and Iran will only serve to delay Iran’s efforts to do so. As Gary C. Gambill rightly observes: “More worrisome is the prospect that Iran’s nuclear policy after the agreement goes into effect will be much the same as it was before – comply with the letter and spirit of its obligations only to the degree necessary to ward off unacceptably costly consequences. This will likely take the form of what I call nuclear creepout – activities, both open and covert, legal and illicit, designed to negate JCPOA restrictions without triggering costly multilateral reprisals.” “It is important to bear in mind that the JCPOA bars signatories from re-imposing any sanctions or their equivalents on Iran, except by way of a United Nations Security Council Resolution restoring sanctions.” (Such a resolution will then be vetoed by Russia and China.) “The language demanded by the Iranian negotiators, and accepted by the Obama administration, makes small-scale cheating virtually unpunishable.”

Hassan Rohani, Iran’s current president, addressed the Iranian nation on July 14, 2015, saying that “the superpowers have recognized a nuclear Iran.” “Today, the agreement is carried out under conditions that state that (Iran) will retain over 6,000 centrifuges, over 5,000 of which will be at Natanz and over 1,000 at Fordo. All centrifuges at Natanz will continue to enrich (uranium).”

Shortly after this nuclear deal had been concluded, German Economy Minister Sigmar Gabriel flew to Tehran with a view to normalizing economic ties; other western politicians followed suit. Such ill-timed visits will only encourage the Iranians to be even more assertive in pursuing their foreign policy objectives. None of those smiling politicians protested against Iran’s extensive and dangerous ballistic missile program or against the fact that Washington Post correspondent Jason Rezaian has been held in a prison in Tehran since July 22, 2014.

Emerson Vermaat is an investigative reporter in the Netherlands.

Website: www.emersonvermaat.com.

Sources:

Gerhard Höpp, Der Koran als ”Geheime Reichssache”. Brückstücke deutscher Islam-Politik zwischen 1938 und 1945 (Nachlass Höpp), pp. 15, 16 (Iranian clerics praising Hitler), http://kalliope-verbund.info/de/ead?ead.id=DE-611-HS-1451486

World Religions/Islam, Imam Mahdi…The 12th Imam,

Mark D. Skootsky, U.S. Nuclear Policy Toward Iran (June 1, 1995, quote from Rafsanjani), http://people.csail.mit.edu/boris/iran-nuke.text

Elihu D. Richter and Alex Barnea, Tehran’s Genocidal Incitement against Israel, The Middle East Quaterly, Summer 2009, pp. 45-51, http://www.meforum.org/2167/iran-genocidal-incitement-israel

Gary C. Gambill, Nuclear Creepout: Iran’s Third Path to the Bomb, The National Interest/MEF, http://www.meforum.org/5396/iran-creepout

Iranian President Rohani in Address to the Iranian Nation Following the Announcement of the Iran-P5+1 Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action, July 15, 2015, http://www.memri.org/report/en/0/0/0/0/0/0/8663.htm

INTERNAL SUBVERSION, THE PRESENT DANGER: “DOWN, DOWN, USA” CHANTED AT TINY “MILLION MAN” MARCH

October 11, 2015 – San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – The much heralded, but sparsely attended Million Man March hit 20 years old yesterday. The crowd was so insignificantly small that many of the usual suspect media massagers failed to mention it at all.

Others, always game for a round or three of pretend journo, actually published crowd scenes from the 1995 march which drew in excess of 250,000 people, a quarter of the original march’s goal but substantial nonetheless.

The vicious, whitey hating, anti-Semite leader of the Nation of Islam – Louis Farrakhan has been the prime mover behind these events, as he was at last Saturday’s rally.

Anti-Americanism has been the guiding ideology behind these yearly gaggles, and, as has been the case in most large demonstrations over the last half century, stern-faced revolutionary Communists of varying stripes made their presence known resplendent in Che, Mao and Marx T-shirts as well as the omnipresent black on red banners advocating overthrow of the government along with information tables hawking revolutionary and anarchist tracts.

Despite the MSM’s fawning treatment of the MMM, at least one of the major local news sources got its coverage right:

“A female Native American speaker led a crowd in a chant of “down, down USA” at the Million Man March in Washington, D.C., on Saturday, the woman claimed that former Libyan dictator Muammar “Gaddafi is still alive” and called on President Obama to pardon Leonard Peltier…” Kellan Howell, Million Man March Speaker Chants, ‘Down USA Down,’ Washington Times]

Peltier, an American Indian is a domestic terrorist convicted and sentenced to life in the 1975 murder of two federal agents at the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation.

Despite the dwindling numbers of participants, make no mistake about the seriousness of the matter. This level of anti-American, pro-Marxist sentiment has grown substantially, especially during the presidency of Barack Obama, with at least 30% of the population apparently willing to strap on the jack-boots, grab the Molotov cocktails and head towards the nearest synagogue...or Tea Party meeting.
The Bernie Sanders phenomenon has come to symbolize the Progtards endgame, a violent leveling of society [equality of outcome] in pursuit of an ideology which is frighteningly consistent with what is now normatively orthodox Catholic social justice teaching. [for further reference please see this authors exhaustive report, Bitter Harvest, How Marxist “Progressives” Have Infiltrated The Catholic Church, The Religious Left Exposed]

Lending further credence to the depth of what is now a fundamentally transformed electorate comprised of studiously ignorant, greedy low achievers, a recent Gallup Poll shows that nearly half [47%] of those queried support the basic tenets of “redistributive justice” [see, Gallup telephone random survey of 1,527 adults, conducted June 2-7] and are thus willing to vote for a socialist.

It’s by no means a stretch in logic to assume that a substantial portion of these totalitarian minded Americans are of the type willing to abrogate the First and Second Amendments [in reality many of them are willing to simply torch the document] in pursuit of the utopian ideal of what has been spoon fed Western Civilization now for over 100 years now, dehumanizing ant-farm communities where everyone – but the overlords – equally shares in the misery.

We suggest that our readers keep this disturbing trend in mind while sorting through national security issues, especially those pertaining to Islamic jihad, each day.

As one brief example demonstrates, according to the insurrectionist plan, written by Mohammad Akram put forth by the Muslim Brotherhood, uncovered in a terror raid, America will collapse from within as revolutionaries [Islamists, Marxists, nihilists and other sociopathic fanatics] use the freedoms of the West against itself to bring about its destruction.

In conclusion we ask you to consider the following text from the explanatory notes taken from Muslim Brotherhood's general plan for reinstalling the Caliphate.

"The Ikhwan [Arabic for the Muslim Brotherhood/Muslim Brothers] must understand that their work in America is a kind of grand Jihad in eliminating and destroying the Western civilization from within and 'sabotaging' its miserable house by their hands and the hands of the believers so that it is eliminated and God's religion is made victorious over all other religions..." For the complete document, entered into evidence in U.S. vs. Holy Land Foundation, the United States' most extensive and successful prosecution of Hamas terror financing, please see General Strategic Plan For The Group In North America.

Remember that the swelling candidacy of Bernie Sanders, though he may appear to many to be that raving, half-daft old uncle one keeps locked in the basement, offers daily proof that the foundation of this society are in peril as they have never been before.
"A nation can survive its fools, and even the ambitious. But it cannot survive treason from within. An enemy at the gates is less formidable, for he is known and carries his banner openly. But the traitor moves amongst those within the gate freely, his sly whispers rustling through all the alleys, heard in the very halls of government itself. For the traitor appears not a traitor; he speaks in accents familiar to his victims, and he wears their face and their arguments, he appeals to the baseness that lies deep in the hearts of all men. He rots the soul of a nation, he works secretly and unknown in the night to undermine the pillars of the city, he infects the body politic so that it can no longer resist. A murderer is less to fear. The traitor is the plague."

Marcus Tullius Cicero’s warning against internal subversion remains as vital today as it was 2,000 years ago when it became clear that the days of the Pax Romana were numbered.
NEW YORK TIMES DOUBLING DOWN ON JEW HATRED

By WILLIAM MAYER

October 8, 2015 – San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – We have written about the New York Times' coded Jew hatred on many occasions. In our opinion this sentiment have been on display, in what is considered to be the newspaper of record, for entirely too many years to be anything but intentional.

We therefore turn, with great interest, to a piece published today in FrontPageMagazine [please refer to, Phyllis Chesler, A Blood Libel Every Day: The New York Times Does It Again]. Ms. Chesler's article raises many of the same issues about which we have written so often, including the Times' effort to elevate contrived issues regarding Israel's defiant Arab squatters [the "Palestinians"] over those of a Jewish population that is under daily assault.

"I do not understand why a lawsuit has not already been launched against the New York Times for incitement to genocide...There is little doubt that the poisonous propaganda of Hamas, Fatah, and the Palestinian Authority has, is, and always will lead to terrorist attacks against Israeli civilians—babies, toddlers, senior citizens, as well as adult men and women. So, too, does the daily—and I literally mean the daily—coverage of Israel and Palestine in the Gray Lady which has, is, and will lead to a great hardening of their readers’ hearts towards Israel, and an opening of their readers’ wallets to fund boycotts against Israel as well as terrorism against Jews globally..."

What follows is a reprint of an August 18, 2014 article which deals with these topics, among others:

In a piece recently appearing on these pages [William Mayer, New York Times’ Coded Jew Hatred: Running Body Count During Gaza Operation] this author noted that while the legacy media had discontinued daily, front page body counts showing casualties in America’s ongoing Middle East conflicts as a service to President Obama, the practice once again surfaced during the war in Gaza.

The media’s over-the-top bias in favor of the HAMAS terrorists is unremarkable.

The press will always cover the war on terror from the perspective that the West is at fault. What is different is that now that a running tally of U.S. military casualties is off limits because the current resident of the Oval Office is Black, it’s the Israeli Jews who are now taking the brunt of leftist rage and hatred.

As we concluded in the above referenced piece:
“…In the Gaza operation, hatred of America is undoubtedly, one of the motivating factors in the media’s pro-“Palestinian” tilt because until very recently, it was one of America’s few bedrock allies and is thus a natural target for the left.

But there is a darker component at work here, Jew hatred.

But how can this be when the New York Times, America’s “paper of record,” has been run by the descendants of Adolph Ochs’ [son of immigrant German Jews] extended family [it was Ochs’ daughter who married Arthur Hays Sulzberger] since he bought the paper in 1896?

Our working theory?

Easy…the people who now run the New York Times are post-Zionists. Can you expect these highly educated, sophisticated people to actually believe the fable that God gave Israel to the Jews? Of course not, it clashes with nearly every fiber of their being. To them the very concept of a “chosen people” screams racism…”

Now we find the Times once again attacking Jews whose only sin is to defend themselves.

The matter revolves around a NYT piece published on August 15 in which it told the story of one Henk Zanoli who, though he distinguished himself during World War II by saving Jews from the Shoah, has returned a medal awarded to him for his bravery. The reason is that Zanoli has turned vitriolic critic of Israel’s war against HAMAS on the grounds that the IDF bombed a home in Gaza which killed some very distant relatives of the former hero. Zanoli claimed that the home was not a military target and that none of its occupants were terrorists.

But as Israel National News reports, information was publicly available which proved that not only was one of the killed a terrorist, he was a high ranking member of HAMAS’ Qassam Brigades:

“However, research by blogger Elder of Ziyon suggests that the newspaper could have, it if wished to, found out that in fact, one of the people killed in the attack was a full-fledged Hamas terrorist – a valid military target by all accounts. In its review of the July 20th strike, B’tselem reported that one of the victims - Muhammad Mahmoud al-Maqadma, 30 - was none other than a “military branch operative.” In fact, he was a member of the Al Qassam Brigades of Hamas…”

[source, Hillel Fendel, New York Times Misleads over 'Righteous Gentile' Gaza Anger]

Given Mr. Zanoli’s advanced age [he is over 90 years old now] he might be given benefit of the doubt in this matter, but the Times’ in once again slandering Israeli Jews, has no such defense. If a blogger could have so easily accessed the truth in this matter, one would hope that with the huge investigative resources available to the NYT it could have done the same and killed the piece.

Looking at the Times’ sorry record on such matters we conclude that the folks at the Old Gray Lady didn’t want the truth to impinge on its ongoing narrative, that Israel is indistinguishable from HAMAS.

While our readers can judge the fairness of this charge, we have no doubt; this is clearly another example of Jewish self-hatred being played out on the pages of America’s “Newspaper of Record.”
OFFICIAL: AFGHAN HOSPITAL TARGETED BY US AIR STRIKE AND RUN BY DOCTORS WITHOUT BORDERS SHELTERED TALIBAN FIGHTERS

October 6, 2015 – San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – At 2:15 am, Saturday local time, a hospital in the embattled Afghan city of Kunduz [for further reference, please see our September 28 coverage, Asleep At The Switch, Again: Obama Malfeasance Gives Taliban Historic Win, PipeLineNews.org] was hit by a U.S. airstrike in response to hostile fire which was coming from the upper floor windows of the facility. The hospital is run by Medecins Sans Frontieres a French group which along with its affiliate, Doctors Without Borders has a history of providing aid to Muslim enemy fighters.

For example even the hard left leaning Wikipedia detailed some of the activities of Medecins Sans Frontiers:

“In December 1979, after the Soviet army had invaded Afghanistan, field missions were immediately set up to provide medical aid to the mujahideen…”

A 2007 piece in the liberal Jerusalem Post tied a Doctors Without Borders worker to a plot to assassinate then Israeli PM Ehud Olmert.

“A Palestinian from the Gaza Strip who works for the humanitarian organization Doctors Without Borders has been arrested for allegedly plotting to assassinate Prime Minister Ehud Olmert, the Shin Bet (Israel Security Agency) revealed Thursday. Mazab Bashir, 25, from Deir el-Balah began working with Doctors Without Borders five years ago. On April 19, he confessed during a Shin Bet interrogation that for months, he had been collecting intelligence on senior Israeli officials - including Olmert and a number of Knesset members.” [source, Yaakov Katz, Doctors Without Borders (Medecins Sans Frontieres) staffer plotted to kill Olmert, JPost, cross-posted by NGO Monitor]

In a 2013 NPR interview conducted by Melissa Block, Stephen Cornish the executive director of Doctors Without Borders Canada didn’t hesitate to state that his group provided medical services for Islamic “fighters” in Syria. The activity is taking place outside the areas under control by the Assad forces so what we are really talking about here are most likely Sunni mujahideen which could include members of the Al-Nusra Front or even ISIS terrorists.

“BLOCK: And you were in rebel-controlled areas in the northern part of Syria…You mean, in other words, that the fighters are getting priority for medical care and the civilians are suffering for that.

CORNISH: Unfortunately, that is sometimes the reality on the ground. Some of the surgeries we visited, you could tell that because not only there were no civilians on the wards but there were also no beds or toilet facilities for women. So it's kind of a dead giveaway.” [source, Doctor: 'We Truly Are Failing The Syrian People', NPR]

Upon that rather uncomfortable disclosure, the PBS interview abruptly ends…but the controversy has only intensified since then.

In an October 4 article written by Daniel Greenfield for FrontPageMag, the author claims that, “It's Time to Treat Doctors Without Borders as a Terrorist Organization,” due to its numerous “entanglements” with terrorist Muslims.

When it comes to lefty orthodoxy, few news sources can top the Washington Post, which reported on October 4:

“In Kunduz, the acting governor, Hamdullah Danishi, also suggested that the airstrike was warranted. He said Taliban fighters had been using the Doctors Without Borders compound to plot and carry out attacks across the city, including firing rocket-propelled grenades from the property. ‘The hospital campus was 100 percent used by the Taliban,’ Danishi said. ‘The hospital has a vast garden, and the Taliban were there. We tolerated their firing for some time’ before responding.” [source, Tim Craig and Craig, Afghan response to hospital bombing is muted, even sympathetic, Whitlock, WashPost]

That an NGO would work in such a manner isn’t surprising, however President Obama has seized on the opportunity in what appears to be a game-changer, ordering his corrupt U.S. Department of Justice to engage in a full scale “review,” of a matter which is entirely military.

According to numerous news sources including the UK Daily Mail, The White House: DOJ will also probe air strike on Afghan hospital]

“The U.S. Department of Justice will investigate the deadly air strike that hit a hospital in the Afghan city of Kunduz, joining other probes being conducted by the Pentagon, NATO and a U.S.-Afghan team, the White House said on Tuesday.”

Clearly then we have another case of the president acting as a terror enabler to the detriment of his country [assuming for sake of argument that his country of origin actually is the United States] and of the military which he commands.

Obama’s actions in this and related matters, where America’s defenders are being singled out for prosecution by a president who seems to have taken leave of his senses, is destroying what’s left of the Armed Forces’ morale. By his actions the CIC is directly aiding and abetting the Islamist enemy and further undercutting even the meager efforts that the West is taking to protect itself from the onrushing jihad.

Last point…that Obama is striking out in this manner against the military as Afghanistan is rapidly falling apart either due to his ineptitude or possibly according to plan, makes this an extraordinarily important development, the negative consequences of which will reverberate for a long time throughout national security circles.
UNCONTROLLED IMMIGRATION AND NATIONAL SECURITY, A THREAT TO WESTERN SOCIETY

October 6, 2015 – San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – In a recent posting on his website, Dr. Daniel Pipes [President of the Middle East Forum] cautioned against the ramifications of continuing the current [50 year old] immigration policy which controls [among many other aspects of the matter] the number and ethnic composition of foreigners who are permitted to legally immigrate to the United States.

Critiquing the Immigration and Naturalization Act of 1965 Pipes writes:

“As multiculturalism takes hold, I wonder if classic American culture, with its stress on individualism and freedom, will survive…” [source, Daniel Pipes PhD, 50 Years Of Dangerous Immigration Policy]

This iteration of “immigration reform” was passed during the heady days of President Johnson’s “Great Society” and the American public was strongly assured by prominent politicians that the legislation would have little or no impact on America’s ethnic mix and hence no discernible effect on the culture.

For example Senator Ted Kennedy, a prime mover of the bill, stated:

“First, our cities will not be flooded with a million immigrants annually. Under the proposed bill, the present level of immigration remains substantially the same ... Secondly, the ethnic mix of this country will not be upset ... Contrary to the charges in some quarters, [the bill] will not inundate America with immigrants from any one country or area, or the most populated and deprived nations of Africa and Asia ... In the final analysis, the ethnic pattern of immigration under the proposed measure is not expected to change as sharply as the critics seem to think…The bill will not flood our cities with immigrants. It will not upset the ethnic mix of our society. It will not relax the standards of admission. It will not cause American workers to lose their jobs." [U.S. Senate, Subcommittee on Immigration and Naturalization of the Committee on the Judiciary, Washington, D.C., Feb. 10, 1965. pg. 1-3, for additional discussion of the way the bill was sold please see, Three Decades Of Mass Immigration: The Legacy Of The 1965 Immigration Act, Center For Immigration Studies, 1995]

Similarly, members of both parties argued, against all logic, what should have been apparent to all on the Immigration Act’s face, that allowing people to legally stream into the United States from markedly non-democratic, often despotic cultures, could only harm the continued promise of liberty and freedom that American traditionalism represents.

Other important members of the administration, for example Secretary of State, Dean Rusk as well as Attorney General Robert Kennedy served up the same Pabulum, that America would remain as it had been pre the legislation, which proved to be so deceitful it ranks along with Johnson’s concocted Gulf of Tonkin affair, as one of the most egregious fabrications of the latter half of the 20th century.

Albeit, now with 50 years of hindsight, even at the time it’s difficult comprehend how anyone could honestly have claimed that opening the immigrant floodgates to America would have anything but a deleterious effect

Perhaps the secondary question is more vital; why, when viewing the pernicious effect [evidence in hand] that our culturally blind immigration system is having - the destruction of the engine which had heretofore produced a commonizing, ethical culture based upon a Reformational Judeo-Christian blueprint - is the process allowed to continue unabated?

As Dr. Pipes makes clear in his posting, there is a natural irreducible tension between the ideas represented by Western Civilization and those of the multiculturalists, as a matter of fact the two are natural polar opposites.

Before the mid 1960s, multiculturalism was unheard of because it was a contradiction in terms in the America of that time - one which operated under the motto of E Pluribus Unum. However as sizable numbers of migrants who refused to acculturate became citizens, leftist academics saw in the theory a powerful wedge issue to fan the flames of the Marxist cultural warfare in which they were already fully engaged, pumped by the issues surrounding the war in Vietnam.

The trend lines presented in the study to which Pipes refers, the Pew Research findings, are alarming, in that over the next 50 years, the indigenous American population will increase by 14 million people [low birth rates being the primary cause, as it is in Europe, to an even greater degree] while the immigrant population will grow 7 times as rapidly - a mind-boggling 103 million. [to access the full set of statistics developed by Pew please refer to Modern Immigration Wave Brings 59 Million to U.S., Driving Population Growth and Change Through 2065 , Pew Research Center]
With the corrosive theory of a perverse multiculturalism now driving the ideology of the West's cultural elite, the challenge will be to require the new arrivals [who have landed or are in the pipeline] to embrace the culture while at the same time severely limiting [or better, yet stopping entirely for the present] immigration into the United States.

If we want the United States to continue to prosper and remain the beacon of hope it has historically represented, the Balkanization of America must end. This can only happen through a concerted effort to re-educate the populace so that it fully understands the death-spiral effect of hyphenated citizenship.

This we fear will be a very difficult undertaking as the Democrat party, now and as was the plan in 1965, are intent upon building through unrestrained immigration a voting bloc which will guarantee them electoral victory in perpetuity. What the Democrats - and unwittingly their dunce accomplices in the GOP’s old boy network and funding structure [to wit the U.S. Chamber of Commerce] are seeking is absolute, one-party rule which will in short order end the American dream, perhaps forever.
U.S. MEDIA PLAYING ALONG WITH PUTIN’S BAIT AND SWITCH SYRIAN BOMBING CAMPAIGN

October 3, 2015 – San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – With Russia’s major incursion into Syria now well into its second week, one would be hard pressed to determine the exact nature of this expeditionary venture, its goals, targets and overall effectiveness by relying on the legacy media.

CNN is typical, accepting at face value Vlad Putin’s so-far bogus claim that his SU-34 bombers are being used to target ISIS positions.

At the same time the reportage [such as it is] is being massaged to be in accord with what has now become a standard template in covering warfare, stressing alleged civilian casualties…collateral damage, rather than diving deep into what data we do have to present a reasonable, if necessarily spotty at this juncture, picture of the situation on the ground.

For example:

“At least 11 people were killed in an alleged double strike by Russia in Syria's Idlib province, according to opposition groups. Members of Syria's Civil Defense, a volunteer group operating in rebel-controlled areas, rushed to save people after the aerial attack on the village of Ehsim when a second strike hit the area. A rescue worker and nine members of one family were among the dead, according to the rebel-run Revolutionary Forces of Syria.” [source, Faith Karimi, Russia Bombs Syrian Targets For The 4th Day As International Concerns Grow, CNN]

What this manner of journo tells an awake reader [how many of those are in CNN’s meager audience is debatable] is that the network is likely never to reports what is actually going on because it relies upon the disinformation being provided by those who are actually being targeted in the Russian air bombardment, Sunni jihadists bent on toppling the Iranian supported regime of Bashar al-Assad - a less-than-rabid Alawite Shia whose behavior is angelic compared to that of his foes.

We believe that the reports alleging Russians attacks on ISIS positions are intentionally false for two major reasons:
1. Because there are much more reliable sources providing factual contradictory information, some of it in video format that would be difficult to fake.

2. Perhaps most importantly, CNN and its alphabet soup cohorts, which now unfortunately includes the Fox nincompoops, led by the estimable Charles Krauthammer, [who is operating at several levels above his pay grade], are “adjusting” their message to keep it in line with Team Obama’s party line, which of course has been massively embarrassed by the Russian surge and wishes to put events in their best light, that being Putin is doing what Obama claims [with little substance] to already be doing in his pretend war, degrading the ISIS butchers.

As the Institute for the Study of War reports with much more convincing data:

“The Russian Ministry of Defense claimed on October 3 that Russian Su-34s conducted airstrikes targeting an ISIS-held “command center” near Raqqa city, northern Syria. However, local Syrian reporting did not substantiate this claim. In fact, Syrian activists released comparisons of the airstrike footage, revealing that the strike targeted the rebel-held town of Al Latamneh in Hama Province, western Syria. Syrian state-run news agency SANA also released footage of the same airstrike; however, SANA claimed the airstrike targeted the town of Jisr al-Shughour. As the Russian Ministry of Defense continues to claim airstrikes against ISIS, particularly in core ISIS-held terrain, it will remain important to distinguish the true targets and intentions of Russian military action in Syria amidst Russian disinformation. [source, Genevieve Casagrande, Russian Disinformation On Air Strikes In Syria, ISW]

Though destroying ISIS may indeed be one of Russia’s eventual aims as it makes its unopposed re-entry as a major player in the ME, it must be stressed that the country’s primary strategic goal is to preserve unchallenged access to its long-time naval base at the Syrian port city of Tartus, on the Mediterranean. Towards that end Russia’s immediate concern is to stop the so-called “rebels” some of whom this administration – and an unsurprisingly large number of talking heads – continues to claim are part of the mythical “Free Syrian Army [FSA],” which if it ever actually existed – doubtful – is now indistinguishable from the Sunni jihadists bent on toppling Assad.

It was this FSA which was the beneficiary of Obama’s CIA/State Department led gunrunning operation which was headquartered at the now burned out hull of our consulate in Benghazi as well as that of the CIA “annex” located a mile away.

The take-away [and we will delve far deeper into Russia’s Syrian operation as reliable information becomes available] is that the media’s coverage of this truly historic event is intended to accomplish two things. One of these is to protect what precious little remains of President Zero’s credibility. The second being the clear effort to advance the “boo-hoo” media narrative stressing the “human tragedy” angle as if this very real crisis was merely an extra-meaty automobile accident, the bloody lead story on the 11 O’clock news.

This conflict is far too important for the future of the West for the media to be irresponsibly pushing what is provably, a Looney-Tunes false narrative while largely ignoring the all important geopolitical/military consequence of Putin’s not so little Western gambit.
NETANYAHU DEMANDS ACCOUNTABILITY OVER MURDER OF TWO ISRAELIS IN FRONT OF COUPLE’S CHILDREN

October 2, 2015 – San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – Hat tip to the Investigative Project on Terrorism...today Binyamin Netanyahu demanded that the PA leadership condemn the Arab terrorists who killed an Israeli couple as they were driving their four children home.

In his most recent public appearance, Mahmoud Abbas, leader of the PA, failed to even refer to the incident while its controlling faction, HAMAS praised the killing.

The Investigative Project on Terrorism posted an excerpt from a speech by Abbas made on PA television which clearly demonstrates his stoking of the worsening jihad taking place in Israel.

"The Al-Aqsa [Mosque] is ours... and they have no right to defile it with their filthy feet. We will not allow them to, and we will do everything in our power to protect Jerusalem... We bless every drop of blood that has been spilled for Jerusalem, which is clean and pure blood, blood spilled for Allah, Allah willing. Every martyr (Shahid) will reach Paradise, and everyone wounded will be rewarded by Allah," Palestinian Authority (PA) President Abbas said in a speech, segments of which were aired on official PA TV and posted on his website."

About the incident Palestinian Media Watch has this to say:

“Palestinian Media Watch has documented that the Palestinian Authority has led a vicious incitement campaign against Israel calling for violence in recent weeks. Palestinians are fed a steady diet of statements by senior PA and Fatah leaders, claiming that the Al-Aqsa Mosque is "in danger," and that Palestinians must defend it through Ribat, a religious war to liberate or defend what is claimed to be Islamic land. PA Chairman Abbas chose to open his speech Wednesday at the UN with this PA libel. Specifically, he stated that Israel is scheming to destroy the Al-Aqsa Mosque.”

U.S. Secretary of State Kerry, in the standard boilerplate statement, said the “world community” must act to stop the violence.

Fatah, Abbas’ political party claimed responsibility for the murder, as the Western Journalism news website notes “Senior Fatah official Mahmoud Al-Aloul, who is a member of the Fatah Central Committee, was revealed by Palestinian Media Watch (PMW) as having announcing responsibility on Facebook for the murder of Rabbi Eitam and Naama Henkin outside Itamar in Samaria,” Arutz Sheva in Israel reported.
HUGE ESCALATION IN TEMPLE MOUNT TENSIONS AS ARABS BECOME MORE PROVOCATIVE

October 2, 2015 – San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – The Investigative Project on Terrorism is calling attention to the provocative actions being taken by the International Union of Muslim Scholars, which is attempting to ratchet up the daily violence which has been occurring in and around Israel’s Temple Mount, what Muslims refer to as the Al-Aqsa mosque.

“The International Union of Muslim Scholars [IUMS] is calling on Palestinians to "Rescue al-Aqsa" and rise up against Israel, according to several Twitter posts translated by the Investigative Project on Terrorism (IPT). One of the tweets features a picture of Israeli police about to enter Jerusalem's Al-Aqsa mosque. In reality, the Israeli authorities are pursuing Palestinian rioters who took refuge in the mosque and terrorists who were plotting to conduct attacks against Jewish worshippers…”

As the group states in its most recent presser:

“The International Union calls for resistance against the Zionist occupier criminal acts on the land of Palestine, by all possible means, in particular that recently done at the Aqsa Mosque and its courtyards and corridors and the burning of some of the windows and historical doors and its components, and the attack on the morabitoun and morabitat, and prevent Muslims from praying or entering Al-Aqsa Mosque...”

The IUMS is led by Yusuf al-Qaradawi one of the modern jihad’s spiritual fathers, a supporter of al-Qaeda and the party whom the ADL has aptly named the Theologian of Terror. As an example of the clout Qaradawi holds in the Muslim world, he hosts what is probably the most watched weekly television show on the planet broadcast on al-Jazeera television with a reported audience of over 50 million. He is also the proprietor of IslamOnline, a popular da’wa website.

Qaradawi is also a fervent supporter of Hamas, the Muslim Brotherhood created Palestinian terrorist group. According to the respected Middle East Media Research Institute [MEMRI] HAMAS is taking great solace in Qaradawi’s support:

"I support the Palestinian cause. I support the resistance and the jihad. I support Hamas, the Islamic Jihad, and Hizbullah. I oppose the peace that Israel and America wish to dictate. This peace is an illusion. I support martyrdom operations..." [source, Hamas Leader Khaled Mash'al Praises Sheikh Yousef Al-Qaradhawi for His Support of Suicide Operations ...”, MEMRI]

HAMAS’ leader Khaled Mash’al, is effusive in his praise of Qaradawi and the work of his IUMS:
"The support we got from Sheikh Al-Qaradhawi is different from the support of anybody else, because of his religious status…and his ability to draw the attention of the nation…[to]…the issue of Palestine…He has publicly declared his support for the resistance factions, unequivocally and without any hesitation or embarrassment, without fawning over anyone. From day one to the present, the sheikh, may Allah reward him, has not hesitate to support the jihad and the resistance, and to support the fighters…” [source, ibid]

Two Arab groups, had been acting as self-appointed “guardians” of the Temple Mount, the mourabitat [for women] who have taken the most active role, and the mourabitoun [for men] until they were banned and then expelled by Israeli security personnel because of the violence they were fomenting as Jews attempted to pray in the area. For the straight Islamist viewpoint on the matter please refer to Al-Aqsa’s Women Resist, Al-Monitor.

Far from being a “popular” movement, members of mourabitat/mourabitoun are paid provocateurs, receiving a monthly “salary” in excess of 1,000 shekels from organizations linked to Hamas as well as a Jordanian run waqf [trust].

The violence in the Temple Mount area has been part of Hamas’ continuing jihad which just days ago resulted in the death of Alexander Levlovit by a rock throwing crowd.

Working in conjunction with the actions of mourabitat/mourabitoun, has been Mahmoud Abbas [Abu-Mazen] who, earlier this week, unilaterally withdrew the Palestinian Authority from the Oslo Accords, the now ancient [1993] pretend peace agreement brokered by Bill Clinton between Israel and the Arab squatters claiming to be “Palestinians,” who at the time were represented by the terrorist Yasser Arafat.
THE “J” WORD NONE DARE MENTION

October 1, 2015 – San Francisco, CA – PipeLineNews.org – It’s no longer breaking news that Vlad Putin’s Russia has entered into a full military alliance with Iran and that over that last few days Moscow has been directing a heavy campaign of bombing Sunni Islamist targets [what is ridiculously referred to as the Free Syrian Army] from newly constructed bases actually on the soil of the world’s largest state sponsor of terrorism.

Within this the new reality, we thought it might prove of interest to explore the meaning and implications of jihad from a Jewish perspective. We do this because Israel is now more than ever serving the function of the canary in the coal mine having been undercut and sold out by the Obama Administration and his willing Western allies. One might note that the most prominent of our European “friends” only 70 years ago – a mere blink-of-the-eye as these things go - plunged the entire world into the largest, most horrific war in history.

To that end we refer to a really excellent essay regarding the topic, written by Dr. Mordechai Kedar. [see, It’s Jihad Stupid, and published by Arutz Sheva, the Israeli news website, today]

“It is sad to see the lack of real understanding on the part of Israelis and the rest of the world as to what actually is happening out there, because there is only one word that describes…reality…the word, and it is the only applicable word, is "Jihad." This, to many Israelis, is the word "that must not be said" because it tells us is that what we in Israel are experiencing at the present time is an Islamic religious war.”

Dr. Mordechai’s observations regarding the reticence of Israelis to utter the “j” word applies to the West in general which has steadfastly refused to characterize the ongoing conflict between the Ummah and the Western world as being wholly religious in nature.

Despite the overwhelming evidence to the contrary, the powdered wig set - the ruling elite especially the denizens of DC, London, Paris, Bonn and now unfortunately, the Vatican - refuses to acknowledge that we are in the midst of a type of warfare which predates the First Crusade in 1096.

Mordechai stresses that the recent effort to reconstitute a genuine Islamic caliphate has some very modern trappings.

The author breaks the overall effort down into constituent components, “legal jihad,” the effort to overturn the West using the secular court systems of the world, and to this he adds “communication jihad,” which can be seen every day among the legacy media as... well as in the screeds of unapologetic Muslim supremacists as the conflict is sanitized and remanufactured as being the result of Zionism, imperialism, bigotry, etc.

Within the arena which we call the “stealth jihad” [as opposed to the violent form or “kinetic jihad”] are an amazing set of tools which can be brought to bear to secure the goals of the Islamists.

“Rock, boulder, firebomb, knife and gun, along with the camera, courts, boycott and migration – are all weapons in the hands of Jihad fighters…”

That this pulls-no-punches article was published by Arutz Sheva is not hard to understand.

With many, if not most of the Israeli news media slanting hard left, amazingly often appearing to side with Israel’s enemies, Arutz Sheva remains the center-right new source of choice if one expects to understand what is really going on in this unstable part of the world and Dr. Mordechai’s essay should be required reading by all citizens of the Jewish state.